

REMARKS

Applicants respectfully request reconsideration of the present application in view of the foregoing amendments and in view of the reasons that follow.

Claim Rejections Under 35 USC § 103

Applicants submit that the claimed invention is not obvious for the following reasons. Runfola discloses a heating element 12 mounted on a board 7, on which LEDs 10 are also mounted, and near some of the LEDs 10, in Fig. 2. Runfola also discloses a heating element 12' directly applied to the underside of a lens 5 (column 2, lines 39 and 47, Figs. 5 and 6), and resistance wires 12" embedded in lens 5' in Fig. 7. Runfola does not disclose or suggest a heating element mounted apart from both of the light source and the lens, as recited in the amended claim 1. Konishi also does not teach this.

If the heating element is not apart from the light source, heat of the heating element tends to damage the light source. For example, when LEDs are used as the light source, the LEDs deteriorate due to the heat and do not work. When HID lamps are used, their resistance is changed by the heat.

If the heating element is not apart from the lens, materials having low heat resistance, such as polycarbonate resin, cannot be used for lens.

Conclusion

Applicants believe that the present application is now in condition for allowance. Favorable reconsideration of the application as amended is respectfully requested.
